At the beginning of my word, our leader Sh.M.I would like to start with the thoughts of Mirziyoyev, 'we will build a new Uzbekistan together with our ambitious youth.' Because we are young people, who are also the backbone of the state. No matter how many centuries have passed from ancestors to generations, that is, one holistic concept that has come down to us is to educate a child in a clean, healthy environment, to mature unoi in a healthy environment. Even in the world community, azal has long been protected by the rights of the child, its social protection by the UN, UNICEF and other organizations.

In our country, too, in the new draft of our Constitution on the rights of children, i.e. Article 45, the state takes measures aimed at improving the quality of life of socially needy categories of the population, creating conditions for them to participate in the life of society and the state on an equal basis with other citizens, as well as expanding It is no exaggeration to say that this is the result of the work done on the implementation of measures to ensure the legal capacity of the child from birth, the state kindness, kindness and social status of the pupils of the sahovat houses in all respects.

Of course, the role of Olia in the fact that a child is a mature person in the coming into the world is much more important. Because not always the bird does what it sees in its nest, these phrases are not said in vain by our people of course. After the child comes into the world, he takes as an example his own father as the first hero, leader. To what extent the atmosphere in the family is, the child is also brought up accordingly. Nowadays, we see with our own eyes, that is, some members of society are becoming much more European. When we ask people of previous times, they say that a person has read more books in previous times, that they have learned the same profession. Nowadays, where do you say that such behavior in the hands of a young child is a telephone and another type of mobile device. Such a situation is not an example of all people or families, but a small summary of some of the circumstances that are encountered. Because this is what the period requires, time passes like copper running water.

The family arises from the interaction of these two individuals, on the value of it. As a clear example of this, in the new draft of our Constitution, the family will be under the special protection of society and the state as a natural and fundamental link of the community, the basis for the preservation and reproduction of the population.

Marriage is based on the voluntary consent and equal rights of a woman and a man.

The state creates the social and economic conditions necessary for the full development of the family.

The state ensures that large families are provided with benefits and social guarantees in accordance with the law. "these sentences are quoted. This is the result of the work carried out to further strengthen the position of the family in society, increase its position, ensure gender legal freedom in the personality society. As a result of the reforms in our country, a high emphasis was placed on the issue of the family in society, and the main goal was to prepare worthy heirs for the next generation. Each family should raise their children in the spirit of ummuminsoni and national values. The better the environment in the family, the more mature its fruit will grow. In accordance with the new draft of our Constitution on the legal mafias of the child, the second part of Article 65 is replaced by the second, third and fourth parts of the following content:., the interests of the child, the creation of all conditions for the full, physical, mental and cultural development of children is the most important priority of state policy.

Motherhood, fatherhood and childhood are protected by the state.

The state and society take care of the formation in children and young people of loyalty to national and universal values, a sense of pride in the rich spiritual heritage of our great ancestors.' We know that a person is born, formed as a person and receives citizenship after belonging to a particular state. The role of the family in its formation as a person is much more important.

We are the foundations of the future of the youth State. The head of state believes in us. It is no exaggeration to say how many opportunities we open the door to. As a result of reforms in our country, comprehensive work is carried out by the legislative executive and judicial authorities. The contribution of law enforcement agencies in this regard is much greater. In particular, in our country, the State Security Service and its territorial departments, the agency for Youth Affairs, the leadership structures of the local state institutions organize meetings' in the regions, leaders and youth". The purpose of such events is to solve our problems for young people on the spot, to hear our suggestions and feedback on the work done in this regard, to create conditions for young people to build sports grounds, to engage in sports, The main goal of the events organized by such issues as' development of the IT sector, development of entrepreneurship among young people " is the development of the IT sector.

Various propaganda activities are being carried out by law enforcement bodies in the regions in order to prevent crime among young people. Such events educate young people in the spirit of patriotism, teach how to preserve the noble values that are inherited from our ancestors to us.

We young people also need to use such opportunities in our country in a broad way, without wasting our time, learning science and spending our free time learning a profession. After all, the book leads a person to perfection.
