The book is a priceless treasure that has become the essence of human life. A person can meaningfully spend the beautiful and incomparable moments of his life with the help of a book. Everyone knows that books are our best friend in life. With the help of books, we always get an educated, intelligent, intelligent and knowledgeable child. A person is a friend of a book throughout his life and spends all his good deeds, good and bad days, painful and painful, happy and sad days together with it. Because the book can never tell anyone about the pains and sufferings of a person. We love the book, together with the book we celebrate the beautiful and incomparable moments of our life together.

Those who walk in the heavens,

They built a golden palace.

What are you going to do?

Give the child a book.

A book is a person's best friend and advisor, a source of wisdom and knowledge. Because the book is a thinking tool, a key to treasures, and a source of thought, our people considered it as dear, honorable and sacred as bread. That is why the love for the book, its appreciation, and the desire to read it are embedded in the blood of our people. A person's culture is reflected in his book. The book is a treasure of thought. Humanity is distinguished from other living beings in this bright world by its thinking, that is, it has the ability to think. The book educates the human spirit as a factor that satisfies the needs of thinking and the soul, educates him as a real person and is the main driver in the formation of his personality. The book deepens reading, understanding and thinking, calls a person to diligence and excellence. The book always invites us to think, to separate black and white, to organize religion, to live honestly, to be loving and kind, intelligent and wise, to love the Motherland, to serve the development of society, to preserve our spiritual heritage, and to walk towards goodness. For book lovers between seven and seventy years of age, the importance of age and the general importance of the abundance and scarcity of knowledge is good. A person should acquire knowledge at any time, that is, he should know and understand the way and light of the flow of books. We have a lot of knowledge about endless forests, thickets and thorn bushes. Even if it is in overcome such paths and difficulties. You see, people use books and their knowledge at any time. Isn't the fact that we, the youth of Uzbekistan, live in such a peaceful country is a small happiness, an opportunity and a good opportunity for learning? What do you think? Therefore, if a person is familiar with the book and is aware of its knowledge in any situation, be it thorny branches or a peaceful place, he can overcome any difficulty in an instant and become among the truly learned. Only a few people convey the concepts of spirituality and wisdom not only through their tongues, but also through their tongues. They compare the book to the sun. The sun scatters its light on the earth and collects it from the ground. It provides warmth and nutrients to the earth with little soil. The book also touches the consciousness of the human mind and leads it to noble goals and creative works. That is why it is a lamp of reason, a wing of thought, a beacon of goals. Any creature, even the world of plants, birds and animals cannot live without water and air, so it is difficult for a living creature to live without a book that satisfies its spiritual needs. It is true that the soul and blood of any society is a nation of spiritual readers. The beauty of the heart, the inner beauty of the book, to know the beauty of the inner world of a person, one can know his spirituality from how well he is familiar with the book, his thinking, the depth of his mind, and the height of his spiritual. And any clothes are an external decoration. The book is not only a companion to the words of shıtab and hitab, but it also means the meaning of a spiritual person's life. We see the worlds, we travel the worlds, if we do not have the depth of thought and the richness of the mind, we cannot benefit from our traveling the worlds. Our world travel also goes back to this book. Because no matter if a high person goes to any community, he can at least organize a discourse of value, tradition, and adjustment from there. So, we have little left to use every opportunity that is given to us. We are required to be active as actors, not just spectators. As the great poet and thinker Alisher Navoi wrote, the book is a great teacher, the main source of knowledge and spiritual growth. A person who truly wants to learn does not expect help or need from anyone. Because any book can give us invaluable wealth, spirituality, thinking and courage. I think this book is the most convenient and simple option for everyone who wants to learn and be educated. There are many proverbs in the language of our people about the importance of reading books and getting proper education and professional organization. Among them, the book is a source of knowledge, knowledge is a lamp of the mind, beauty is in knowledge. Such wise sayings can be continued for a long time and it is up to each young generation. For thousands of years, it has been showing people the right path, and an important factor for them to be educated, intelligent, educated, professional and mature, and certainly happy is to be friends with this book and never forget to read it. Books have a special place in the lives of young people. Because a good book raises feelings of love for the Motherland, care for parents, deep thinking, respect for national and universal values in a person, encourages goodness and goodness.

A book is a person's closest friend and advisor, a source of wisdom and knowledge. Because the book is a tool of thinking, a key to treasures, a source of thought, our people considered it as dear, honorable and sacred as bread. That is why love for books, appreciation for them, passion for reading is embedded in the blood of our people. A person's culture is reflected in his book.

A book is the nourishment of our soul, making friends with it not only elevates a person, but also introduces him to the world, accompanies him, and leads him to goodness. A person who reads a book sharpens his mind, enriches his spirituality and leads to maturity.

Because the book is a tool of thinking, a key to treasures, a source of thought, our people considered it as dear, honorable and sacred as bread. That is why the love for the book, its appreciation, and the passion for reading are embedded in the blood of our people. A person's culture is reflected in his book.

My young glassy eyes, From the book of consciousness. I found the content, My happiness is from the book.

A person dreams of being happy while living and strives for it. Happiness is a broad concept and not everyone can achieve it without suffering. So, in order to be happy, and to gain thought and knowledge, we should always be familiar with the book, like the hearts familiar with it throughout our life. The book leads a person to higher heights. In any situation, a person cannot be imagined without a book. For a person who has reached the height of man and in his heart, the size of the book or the way in which the event is written is important. An educated person takes the necessary knowledge for himself and understands the unnecessary negative aspects as a test for himself. So, our best friend and the place of knowledge necessary for our life is this book.
